Notes:

When I went to sleep at 8:30pm GMT, I didn't expect that I'd be doing this today! Finn once again had a ton of factors working against him, with European viewers missing out due to 10pm GMT start and the severe lack of warning till 30 mins before stream. Despite this, Finn would still record an insane average viewer count that is comparable with some of the best he's ever done, even if the stream length is back to the normal 4-5h period!

In terms of average viewers this year, this takes it to a huge 4,308, or 4,408 without NY stream!
