Notes:

Despite it being a weekday where most of Finn's audience are either in work (majority of US), coming home from work (EST USA) or heading to sleep very soon (Europe), despite it being a later start time than usual (10pm GMT), Finn still found a way to pull off a 4.2k average, which is incredible when you consider all the factors against him. The numbers dwindled in the final periods of the stream but that is to be expected with it being 3-4am GMT.

January ends with an average viewer count of 4,305, or 4,396 without the NY stream which is easily a new record viewership total!
