Notes:

The weird start time and BP launch didn't mean record numbers, but it did lead to a very rare case of Finn finishing with an amount of viewers that could have increased his average. Either way, even with a start time which was very detrimental to Americans, Finn still pulled out a comfortably over 4k average, hitting over 4k 50 mins in and never falling under again. The max viewers for this stream were very low, which goes to show the remarkable consistency and retention Finn has as well as the ability to cycle in viewers.
