Notes:

It's really hard to properly gauge this stream. Finn's internet died and revived itself in the middle but it caused a sharp drop in viewers which would be an anomalous result, so I opted to take the average viewers from the first portion of the stream without internet issues. Regardless, the average viewers for this part was very high, 4.3k is a superb amount and even after internet issues the average viewership sat just below 4k with the big drop off. Impressive stuff!
