Notes:

I thought something felt a bit weird about this stream, these numbers are worse than the April 1st stream, and those were low. Was it the later than usual start, that being 9pm? Was it simply because it wasn't the weekend? Maybe the lengthier time between streams had an impact? Whatever it is, this had a strange vibe to me from the start. I don't know the exact issue of why viewership was so low compared to past streams, but none of this is important as long as Finn is having fun! That has to be the #1 priority over viewership, and I say this as a stats princess.
