Notes:

So much went wrong this stream for the viewership, the stream quality was still high. 1pm EST on a working Monday for Americans, an unknown start time of between 1pm and 4pm EST, a long stream of over 7 hours in length, the first stream back after just over a week "missing" for a lot of the audience all contributed to a harsh dip in viewership. This is okay though, it was to be expected with everything going against it. If Finn can settle into a 3.5k average then this will look like a small blip at worst.
