Notes:

From looking at the streams I missed, this seems to be about average for the last few, which is great considering there was an uncertain start time (9pm or 10pm was unknown until after 9pm passed), a late start (10pm BST is rough for Europeans especially) and a weekday which usually results in lower viewership. Finn did very well here and yet again Finn is consistent in terms of maintaining viewership with the viewership never falling below 2.7k for 4 hours (15m into the stream till end of stream) which is what you like to see!
